Where did you hear about Homeschool Northland 2023?

Fine print:) My family is aware that there are inherent risks to any assembly of persons and accept these risks including injury or transmission of illness that may take place while attending HN'23. My family will not hold liable the volunteers, the HN'23 event, HN LLC, or the facilities in which the event takes place should any injury or illness occur. My family understands that event pictures will be taken which may be posted on the event website. If we do not want our family's pictures posted, we will notify the information desk when we arrive and let conference photographers know as we see them.
